Product Description You ride in 120 tonnes of moving steel, wrapped in Cera-Luminum Laminate Composite Armour and carrying the best array of defensive weapons they could mount on a Meg-Lev APC chassis. You are part of a 4-man Crew and carry 16 Infantry Troopers for Battlefield Infantry Support. Your job... Get the troops onto the battlefield and scout ahead of the main forces! Armed with an assortment of defensive weapons (such as the “Phalanx” Anti-missile System, and “Dart” multi-roll Rockets), the Lancet is a state-of-the-art frontline Mag-Lev Infantry Fighting Vehicle (MLIFV). She has space for 16 Infantry Troopers to ride inside the Hull, plus a Crew of 3 and a Jump Master, and can travel at speeds up to 300 KMPH at an altitude of 500 Feet. Fully sealed against chemical, biological and nuclear contaminants, and also for the vacuum of space (for Orbital Landing Drops using a special lower-hull heat shield), the Lancet can deliver Combat Infantry Support any where at any time. Though she lacks the “punch” of heavier Mag-Levs like the Dire-Wolf, the Mag-Lev IFV is a valuable tool for any modern battlefield Commander!
