Full Description: One exciting use for a rope ladder is for urban exploration and adventure sports! Imagine this: you're rendering an intrepid explorer, armed with a rope ladder, exploring the hidden corners of a city's rooftops. Rendering scenes where your character is escaping via a seemingly unreachable rooftop garden, and with the trusty rope ladder, your character creates a makeshift bridge to cross the gap. As climb begins, the city skyline unfolds enveloping your character, offering a breathtaking perspective to whole capture the scene below. You figure sets high on a chimney, and there you have it – your very own sky-high oasis, all thanks to your versatile rope ladder. Not only is it a prop for rendering adventure, but it also serves as a symbol of your inspiration to render new heights, both literally and metaphorically. This fully rigged rope ladder by DreamCutter 3D is perfect for posing as a draped or hanging static prop in renders or animating for action videos and games. Included in this product are 3 texture sets from modern steel and cable grade, vintage aircraft wood and cable, and nautical type jute rope and plank. Also included are animation pose files that can be applied to create many swing, gap jump, and swing cycle movements.
